College professors are no longer impressed by resources chosen from the first page of a Google search. They want to see resources selected from authoritative and accountable sources. Fortunately the Library can help.

Library Databases
The Library’s databases place full-text articles from quality academic books and journals at your fingertips. These resources can be accessed from any computer with an internet connection.

To get started visit:
www.lrc.clatsopcc.edu/databases

To access off campus, your username will be your first initial + last name + last four digits of your seven-digit Clatsop Student ID#.

Your password will be your date of birth in the following format: YYYYMMDD. If you have changed your password to login to the Computer Lab, use the changed password. This is separate from your MYCCC and your library account.
